

LINCS (Literacy Information and Communication System) is a service of the National Institute for Literacy.

For more information on other LINCS services, go to www.nifl.gov/lincs

LINCSearch

www.nifl.gov/lincs/search

Search for literacy resources, information, and curricula across the LINCS Network and major national and international adult basic education and literacy sites.

Materials Search

Search human-cataloged reasearch, instructional materials, and curriculum resources available through the LINCS network. Use this search to find videos, books, journals, and web-based materials. Search results include summaries of the resources and other useful information.

Global Search

Search more than 500 current web sites in the LINCS network -- national, regional, and in 50 states and territories -- and in 15 other major national and international sites. Use this search to locate resources available only on the web and to get A LOT of hits.

America's Literacy Directory

Search this comprehensive on-line directory of local literacy providers in all 50 states and U.S. territories to find adult basic education, English as a second language, GED preparation, homework assistance, and after school programs in your neighborhood.

List Search

Access ideas and suggestions from any or all of the NIFL and other literacy-related online discussion lists by searching across the archived discussions.

Grants Search

A precise search of more than 500 current funding opportunities available from federal government, state, and local government, private industry, foundations, and other funding sources. Search results include summaries of the resources and other useful information.